Now, through this easy-to-ready devotional commentary, Revelation will come alive as you read and study scholarly interpretations and compare the strengths and weaknesses of the theories presented. Readers can form their own opinions about the most studied yet least understood book of the Bible. Who are the 24 elders in the book of Revelation? What is the church's destiny as set forth in Revelation? Is the Lord Jesus ever set forth as an angel? Who are the 144,000 set forth as the preachers in the tribulation period? Which beast is the Antichrist? Is Babylon a literal Babylon or as many say a pseudonym for Rome? Is the magnificent city of chapter 21 a literal city or a figure for the church? Many believers in the Lord Jesus search the Scriptures as they take an interest in the great truth of His return. The book of Revelation is very prominent in this regard being God's last word to His children on this theme. There are no doubt many differing thoughts as to the interpretation of the themes set forth, but God has written for every believer to understand His mind regarding this world and the judgment it will know, as well as the glories that will be enjoyed by the Lord Jesus in the day of His manifestation. The purpose of this commentary is to help the saints understand the mind of God, while increasing our knowledge of coming events. These things are written to draw out our affections to Christ and to glorify the Lord who will soon appear and unite us to Himself for ever.

In some instances, the Study confirms currently accepted theological ideology; however, in other areas it opens discussions never before pursued. Through consistent use of scripture, it informs and challenges teachings that have hitherto been unchallenged.

If we pay attention to the alarms in our lives, they could save us. Worry. Anger. Loneliness. Negative emotions are uncomfortable by design. Like any good fire alarm, they alert us to a greater danger. But they won't help us if we try to cover them up, hide them behind excuses, or assume they will always plague us. The only healthy way to manage negative emotions is to find their source and address the problem that set them off. As pastor Jeff Schreve says, "A specific and compelling message can be found in each of your negative, painful emotions. God Himself is trying to speak to you through those emotions—right now." So what is God saying? How can we understand our emotions—even change them? Schreve shows how the truth of the Bible can make sense of our confusion. The power of the Holy Spirit can lead us to freedom, and Jesus Christ can give us true peace in the midst of any crisis. You don't have to let your emotions run away with you, your family, or your future.
